

Brothers Meet after Many Years

Mr. Hartley Upham received quite a surprise the first week in July, when his brother, Roland, whom he had not seen for 28 years, motored from Truro, Nova Scotia, with his wife. The reunion was a happy one.

Roland travelled from the south part of the country, stopped at Blairmore for a week and then continued to Calgary to attend the Stampede for the first time in his life. He then motored to Banff and back to Nova Scotia via a northern route.

Joseph E. Charette Found Dead

Pincher Creek was shocked on Friday last to hear that Mr. Joseph Emile Charette, 50 years, had been found dead.

Mr. Charette had left the ranch home, one and a half miles up from the South Fork bridge, about noon on Thursday, riding a gentle mare. He was last seen by Mrs. Charette by the trees toward the ford. About an hour later the horse was seen near the house and a search was organized in the evening when the son reported his father had not arrived home.

The search commenced about nine o'clock and was kept up all night, continuing until four o'clock Friday afternoon. The body was found lying face up on a gravel bar about two miles below the traffic bridge by Jale, Fred and Paul Gross of the Pincher Creek Hunterie Colony.

The body was brought to town where Dr. McMorris performed a post-mortem examination.

Coroner W. A. McLeod summoned the following jury to view the body and adjourned the inquest until two o'clock on Wednesday: J. M. Scott, foreman; Dr. Williger, H. Taggart, G. Porter, J. Crawford and J. Karr.

Mr. Charette came here from Gatinou Point, Quebec, in 1919 and has ranched in the district since that time. In 1920 he married Miss Esther Miller, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller. For a period of about ten years the family lived in Blairmore, but Mr. Charette still conducted the business on the ranch. In 1937 the family came to reside in Pincher Creek where they bought out the John Hiron residence and holdings. Mr. Charette was a faithful member of the Roman Catholic church. He was well known throughout the district and held the respect of all.

The funeral was held from St. Michael's church on Wednesday, August 2, conducted by Rev. Fr. Violini of Cowley. Also present was Rev. Fr. Harrington of Blairmore and Rev. Fr. La. France of Brockton who conducted the commitment service. Interment was made in the R.C. cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. Rigaux, Jos. Fournier, A. Cyr, H. Lemire, J. Lemire and Jas. Smith.

Deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved left to mourn are Mrs. Charette and daughter, Mrs. J. Eyre; three sons, Burgess of Brooks, and Francis and Bernard at home; two grandchildren; a brother, Rene of Ottawa; his father and two sisters, Mrs. Charron and Mrs. Viau of Gatinou Point, Quebec.

Attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Charron of Quebec, who arrived previously on a visit, Mr. Burgess Charette of Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller of Bellevue. — Pincher Creek Echo.

Historic Figure of Pass died July 21

An historic figure of the early days of the Crows, when steel was being laid through the Crows' Nest Pass to Cranbrook, passed into the Great Beyond at Bluffton, Alberta, on July 21, in the person of Felix Montalbetti, 76.

Deceased in 1888 first settled east of Winnipeg, where he gained employment with the CPR, later becoming a bridge and building foreman.

In 1896 he came as far west as Medicine Hat, from where he started to lay steel for the CPR through the Crows' Nest Pass west to Cranbrook. He later came back to Blairmore, where he started construction of CPR section houses. In 1904 he brought his family to Blairmore where he took up residence.

He was the first man to build a switch line in the Coleman CPR yards. Working under Dan and Bob Sinclair, the former one time CPR superintendent, he started construction on the first International tippie in Coleman in 1903.

Possibly deceased is best known for his stubborn fight for proprietorship of the Blairmore townsite. He and his brother Joe laid claim to ownership of the Blairmore townsite and it was contested. The case was brought up in the courts for several years before the two brothers lost their case.

They built the old Alberta hotel which now has been renovated to house Thornton & Sons hardware.

In addition to his Pass history, he laid steel at Aldersyde, Bassano and from Moose Jaw to Shaunavon, Saskatchewan in 1913.

Pass Big Coal Producer

Honors for being the most productive coal field in Alberta again went to the Crows' Nest Pass last month as it yielded 186,501 tons of coal and left the Drumheller field in second place with 165,939 tons. Both these fields showed a favorable increase in production over June of 1947, but the output for the Lethbridge field suffered slightly.

The June output last year amounted to 169,753 tons for the Crows' Nest Pass and 156,363 for the Drumheller field.

Alberta's entire output of coal for June amounted to 625,331 tons, an increase of 33,761 tons over that produced in the previous June.

Last month's production in tons for various southern fields follows, with the output for June, 1947, in brackets: Lethbridge 32,467 (33,186); Brooks 205 (1,218); Champion 198 (364); Milk River 10 (nil); Taber 209 (403); Redcliff 541 (448).—Lethbridge Herald.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Ralph Cleland returned home on Friday from Pincher Creek with her infant son Garry Ralph Cleland.

Seven-year-old Raymond Dangleville had the misfortune to cut off the end of a finger while operating a lawn mower and is now under the doctor's care.

Wm. Cochrane and Neil Nicholson had, as week-end guests Mrs. Norman Barger and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cummer of Calgary.

On returning home from attending the Coleman Stampede on Saturday, Mrs. Lawrence and her small son of Carsholm made a stopover here to pay a visit at the parental home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Satsinsky.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chandler of Spokane, accompanied by a married daughter of Seattle have returned home following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Veitch at their ranch home in the Porcupine Hills. The Chandlers resided here in the early days and this is their first visit here in twenty-seven years.

Mrs. Doris Sandeman and her son Eric, accompanied by Mrs. Rolo Burn, were week-end visitors to Calgary.

The largely attended funeral of Lorne Dewart, 21, fourth child of Mr. and Mrs. George Dewart of Lundbreck was held in the United church here on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 3, with Rev. J. C. Kay of Bellevue officiating. Scott's Funeral Home of Pincher Creek was in charge. Interment was made in the Cowley cemetery. Besides his father and mother, he is survived by four brothers, Howard at Corbin B.C. and George, Herbert and Leonard at home, and one sister, Mrs. W. Leftwich (Violet) of Edmonton. The community joins in deepest sympathy for the bereaved one.

He went on to speak of the richness of the land and said that nowhere else in the world, excepting in Palestine, had he seen such a profusion of wild flowers.

"The people here don't realize how lucky they are," Mr. Halton said. The food they eat here would be almost too rich for European peoples because of the poor quality they have been accustomed to for so long, he continued. He also spoke of the peaceful country in comparison with that of Europe where clouds of fear are ever present. Mr. Halton told the people that he could not begin to answer all of the problems of the world, but the fact that they needed an answer was certainly evident.—Lethbridge Herald.

Bobby Locke Plans Fernie Exhibition

The world's top golf professional in 1947, Bobby Locke of South Africa, is due for an East Kootenay exhibition on Fernie golf course August 23 as climax to the annual district championships.

Fernie Golf and Country Club has undertaken sponsorship, with aid of other Crows' Nest Pass clubs, in this opportunity to see the world's super-punter. Locke will be on his way to Vancouver to defend his Canadian open championship.

Present plans call for the exhibition to be a foursome. Stan Leonard, Vancouver golf pro and outstanding Canadian on the links, will be included in the quartet. With windup of the East Kootenay championship at Fernie on August 22, men's winner and runner-up will round out the quartet, probably a brace of the Golling Hughes family of Fernie who have homesteaded men's and women's district championships for years.

Tenders Called for Phone Construction

Plans are available and tenders are being called for extension of the telephone exchange in Blairmore and the construction of sub-plants in Coleman and Bellevue.

Tenders must have their applications in by Aug. 23. There are three different sets of plans made up for anyone that is interested.

The office in Blairmore will be extended by an addition on the north side. The sub-plant in Coleman will be built next door to Abousafy's and the one in Bellevue will be located behind the Royal Bank.

Eventually all local calls will be automatic. Operators will still be required for long distance calls, information and receiving reports re any trouble.

The main reason for these improvements locally is that the outside equipment, including poles and cables, are obsolete and have to be replaced.

Canadians are Lucky

"The two greatest problems the world has to face today are the increasing populations of most countries and the decreasing world food supply," Matthew Halton, noted author and war correspondent, told a large audience in Pincher Creek when he spoke Tuesday evening as a guest of the Board of Trade.

Mr. Halton, who was formerly of Pincher Creek, told the assembled group that he was amazed at the overflowing supply of cattle, hogs, grain and oil in Alberta as compared to the scarcity of these things in Europe. He went on to speak of the richness of the land and said that nowhere else in the world, excepting in Palestine, had he seen such a profusion of wild flowers.

"The people here don't realize how lucky they are," Mr. Halton said. The food they eat here would be almost too rich for European peoples because of the poor quality they have been accustomed to for so long, he continued. Mr. Halton told the people that he could not begin to answer all of the problems of the world, but the fact that they needed an answer was certainly evident.—Lethbridge Herald.

British Lawmakers Dislike Beaver Meat

THE PAR, Man.—It boils down more or less to a matter of taste.

But you could hardly blame Eddie Hong, Chinese chef at this far north Manitoba town, for becoming piqued at the attitude of certain British M.P.'s. Eddie is the man who first whipped up a tantalizing dish called Beaver Soup.

The dish appeared unexpectedly on the House of Commons menu and the lawmakers don't go for it. A British legislator wanted to know why foods like beaver meat are tried out on members of parliament. He figured it may have been all right for Canadian fur traders, but he wanted to know why the government tried to make M.P.'s eat it.

Eddie of his specialty? "Very good."

Of course, he's prejudiced—he invented it. But then, it was a howling success at last year's trappers' festival here when it was first introduced.

It's considered a big delicacy in the north. Trappers say it's tasty, nourishing and has a flavor similar to pork and goose, mixed. The meat is rich and dark.

Here's the recipe: One beaver tail, salt, lemon juice and cinnamon. Hold the beaver tail in the flame until the skin blisters. Remove the tail from the flames, and cover it with well-salted water. Cook below boiling point for one hour. Strain the broth and flavor to taste with lemon juice and cinnamon.

It may be thickened with potatoes or any of the usual thickening.

Mmm, good!

Britain Fears Potato Bugs From Continent

Many thousands of acres of potato-growing farm land on the south and east coast of England are now the scene of another "invasion" battle, as they were in the wartime days. This time however, the invader is the Colorado potato beetle, common in Canada, which is the worst threat to Britain's potato crops in ten years. Spraying and searching for the pest is being intensified in areas where the beetle has been found recently, and a small army of farmers, officials, watchers and searchers are engaged in an all-out effort to beat the Continental threat to the crops.

Upper left: Searching potato fields for the Colorado beetle on a farm near Rochester, Kent. The area is the scene of an intensive spraying operation.

Above: A duster-sprayer at work in a potato field on a farm near Rochester. There are four of these sprayers at work in this area, and they are using 20 tons of DDT per week.

Inset: This is the enemy against whom the fight is being waged. Samples of the Colorado beetle are taken in containers by the mobile "army" which is covering a large area of Kent as a precaution against the pest.

Lower left: A government official, in charge of anti-beetle operations in a large area of Kent surveys potato-growing land on which he and his assistants are about to act against the beetle.

Summer Insects Hold Greater Terrors Than Blizzards For Men In Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory.—Summer insects hold greater terrors than winter blizzards for the men who roam the trails of the Yukon.

A man on the tramp in the Yukon during the summer months carries plenty of matches and setting with him. He "dopes" his skin with insect preparations. If he stops for a meal or a rest, he builds a circle of "smudge" fires and sits in the middle.

There is many a tale of men frozen to death in the Yukon snows, but for sheer horror they cannot rival the stories told here of prospectors lost in the hills and unable to protect themselves from the swarms of mosquitoes and black flies. One search party last summer found a missing man sitting on a tree stump, crying softly.

Clouds of black flies, an insect usually no bigger than the head of a pin, have been reported reaching from ground level to a height of 25,000 feet, resembling the "funnel" of a tornado.

Leads interfering with everyday life in the north, these insects present a problem for military authorities, who since 1942 have been studying the operating efficiency of military forces in the sub-Arctic regions. So far, these experiments have had to do mostly with cold, but now the Canadian defense research board is turning its attention to bugs.

Eight field parties are spending the summer in the north this year, under the auspices of the defense research board. In addition, laboratory investigations will be carried out at Fort Churchill, Manitoba.

It is hoped to compile complete information on many types of mosquitoes, black flies and deer flies, and to investigate control methods. The parties will fan out across the north, from the river delta, Southampton Island, Goose Bay, Ungava Bay and Frobisher Bay. The parties are being taken in by air, and will continue their experiments until the end of the Arctic summer, late in August.

Their job will be to collect insects, observe breeding and biting habits, note the effect of weather and vegetation and compile 24-hour timetables of insect activities. Various repellents and control methods will be investigated and a new pest-proof suit will be tried out.

Last year, a check at Fort Churchill identified 10 biting types and various non-biting types of mosquitoes, 12 species of black flies and nine or 10 deer fly types. It was stated that the pests appear in round the clock.

Most fertile breeding grounds are said to be in the barren lands, where spraying methods are described as ineffective because new hordes of insects move in as soon as an area is cleared.

One project envisages spraying snow with insecticide, designed to kill insects when the thaw comes.

The research teams also will conduct experiments to see whether it is possible to create artificial immunity to insect poisons in humans. Members of parties, many of them students or faculty members of Canadian universities, will be treated with various preparations and will expose themselves to insect bites.

Grooms Mistaken For High Officials

LONDON.—It appears that lower brackets of visiting Olympic teams should not dress out of their class. It causes embarrassment.

When the grooms of a visiting equestrian team—officials didn't say which one—turned up at a camp near London they were dressed so smartly that British officials mistook them for high officials of the team.

The grooms were suitably entertained—until it was discovered that the real officers were in Aldershot.

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

FIND EFFECTIVE TREATMENT FOR UNDULANT FEVER

Investigations carried out over a 10-year period in the laboratories and clinics of the University of Minnesota Hospitals indicate that combined treatment with streptomycin and sulfadiazine is more effective against human brucellosis (undulant fever) than any other known therapy.

Writing in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, four physicians report the cases of more than 30 patients with active brucellosis whom they studied and observed, and whose treatment they directed. The doctors were Wesley W. Spink, M.D., Wendell H. Hall, M.D., James M. Shaffer, M.D., and Abraham I. Braude, M.D., from the Division of Internal Medicine, University of Minnesota Hospitals and Medical School, Minneapolis.

Exceeded in importance by only three other communicable diseases—tuberculosis, syphilis and gonorrhea—undulant fever has baffled medical men for many years. The Brucella organism is transmitted to humans by contact with diseased hogs, goats or cows, or by drinking unpasteurized milk. The forms which the disease takes are extremely variable, and even after apparent recovery the Brucella organism may remain in the patient's tissues. Relapse and recurrence of symptoms have therefore been common.

The four doctors report that in both acute and chronic brucellosis cases, a sulfadiazine-streptomycin combination brought the most satisfactory results. Also, patients whose symptoms pointed to brucellosis as the most probable diagnosis responded well to the combined therapy, although the presence of Brucella organisms in their tissue or body fluids had not been proved. The treatment

It had been attempted previously to treat the disease with sulfanamide or with streptomycin, separately, but without success. Only simultaneous treatment with both showed satisfactory results.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

As a rule, the most interesting and successful people are those who have inquiring minds. They are always ready to learn more — from all sources, including other people.

Questions are keys to information that cannot be discovered in any other way.
And you will get worthwhile information from people in all walks of life — if you are not too proud to ask for it.

Moreover, I find that people invariably "open up" readily in response to a query about their work, hobbies or some other subjects about which I have reason to suspect that they know a lot.

I try to summarize what I have learned. This, I find, helps me to remember the facts more clearly.

Use your powers of observation. You will find it a surprisingly big help in building for future success and enjoyment of life!

Your life insurance agent is

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

FAMILY FEATHERS

By EUNICE CASSIDY HENDRYX

IT WAS one of those "it seemed like a good idea at the time" sort of things—that wasn't. Of all the women who shouldn't try to be too helpful, a young minister's wife headed the list. Marilee Baxter thought she knew that when she and Roger were married. Now she was sure she knew.

A suggestion box? That had been her brilliant idea for finding out just what the congregation might offer as a means for improving the service. She had added, "If a young, handsome, and intelligent young minister isn't enough, I'd like to know what more could be suggested."

Suggestions poured in—some amusing; a dozen or more hopelessly antiquated; and a few criticisms, constructive and otherwise. Today when Roger brought the week's accumulation home he dumped them on the desk, then stacked them in a neat pile. He opened the one on top. "Let's have more of the good old-time religion," he read and added, "I can guess who wrote that one."

Marilee chose a bright blue envelope. "Get some new and peppier hymns." She then wrote "note" in the air. "Hooray for that one!" she whooped.

"But listen to this." The serious note in Roger's voice raised her dignity. "Quit being the peacock in the family. Buy your wife some new togs and let her be a little strutting." His words heated her. The last word, the mean, hateful word.

"Why the—the—" Marilee couldn't think of a term strong enough to express her righteous indignation. "He's right," Roger contended.

"He? He, nothing. It's some catty old woman. Someone who's mad because she hasn't made you fall for her, I'll bet."

"What kind of reasoning is that? Marilee. And is it complimentary?" he teased. "A catty old woman falling for me. Why not a charming young lady, may I ask?"

He was trying to hide his feelings. Trying to pretend it didn't hurt. "Anyway," he declared, "the person who wrote that is right. You haven't had a decent outfit since we've been married."

"Now who is being complimentary? I've looked like a fright, have I, Roger Baxter?"

Instantly he took her into his arms. He ran his long fingers through her wavy blonde hair. "I know I don't mean that, darling. But you haven't had a—"

"I've had all I needed," she interrupted.

"You should have had a lovely spring outfit this year. A purple dress and a big yellow hat."

"And bright red shoes, I suppose, you fancy?"

"Something bright and swank. Instead, I had a new suit, and hat, and shoes."

"You represented this district at the conference, didn't you? Roger I don't care a fig for that old note. We know why I haven't righted myself out in all the latest fashions. First there was the baby. I didn't need anything for months before, and I couldn't have thought about new clothes for months after he left us. Then there was your accident."

"Accident," he scoffed. "A broken little finger."

Marilee added, "And shock and numerous bruises on various and sundry parts of your anatomy. And in case you don't remember, for the past few years clothes have been high and material poor. It was the patriotic thing to do without new fashions. Besides," he hopefully, "don't you think it a little bit loyal for me to want you to look your best?"

"Be the peacock of the family?" She struggled out of his arms. "Roger Baxter, if it wasn't for making that old busybody so darned self-righteous, I'd go right down town and buy myself an outfit that would knock your eye out. I may do it anyway."

"Good, my honey. But clothes or no clothes, you're the loveliest gal in the world. You do just as you please regardless of anyone's suggestions." He gave her a quick little kiss. "I'm going out and see a bit in the garden."

Hoe in the garden. That was the cure-all for any of Roger's troubles. Peacock, indeed! Roger was anything but that, yet all the time she was saying, trying to help him, she was making him appear selfish and vain. What a helper she was.

She picked up the hateful note. Maybe she could recognize the handwriting. The note was typed. Nothing to—but yes, there was something. Two capital letters only, but they were decidedly out of line. Roger's typing. The injured little finger never pressed the shift key quite hard enough.

"A swank new outfit! You, you..."

Should Have Waited Before Buying Car

EDMONTON.—Fred Sawchuk has two new automobiles, and he got one of them for only $1. Sawchuk, who operates an Edmonton welding shop, bought a new car for a holiday trip to the United States. Then the next week he won another at the Edmonton Exhibition.

His estimate of the speedometer reading after six days operation at the fair was the closest of $400.

Only One Emotion

Is Easy On Heart

CHICAGO.—Pity your enemies rather than become angry with them, and you will live longer, says an eminent heart specialist.

Dr. N. C. Gilbert, professor of medicine at Northwestern University, told volunteer workers in the Chicago Heart Association's 1945 campaign to pity persons refusing to contribute but not to get angry with them.

Heart trouble "may be incited by any emotion except pity," he said. "Anger is the worst enemy of the heart; it causes more anginal pains and attacks than any of the other disturbances resulting from emotion."

BOAT NECESSARY FOR

HARBOR COMMISSION

WINNIPEG.—Winnipeg has a harbor commission... but no boat.

This was the situation reported to a city finance committee meeting which last night recommended the sum of $2,340 for purchase of a boat to replace the one sunk last year.

Said Ald. Ernest Halouquist: "There's hardly any point in having a harbor commission if we haven't got a boat."

Queen Anne of England (1605-1714) originated the sweepstake idea for horse racing. 2788

Western Briefs

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—The lawn-sprinkler technique is being tried out on a vasty-extended scale on two district farms. A new portable rotary sprinkler system is of aluminum and its layout of pipes and sprinklers distributes water from irrigation ditches like a city dweller's garden hose.

NEEPAWA, Man.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the Canadian National Railway's station at Halboro siding, six miles southeast of here on the Portage-Neepeewa line. The fire, which broke out in the freight shed, spread rapidly and burned the stuccoed building to the ground in about two hours.

YORKTON.—Judging of 13 farm gardens competing in the Yorkton farm garden competition was completed by Prof. D. R. Robinson, Saskatoon, and the gardener Mrs. J. De Vries, with a total of 84 out of a possible 100 points, was awarded first prize.

EDMONTON.—Hereford cattle from Col. Victor Spencer's Earls-croft Farm at Lytton, took top honors in their class here. It was the second victory for Spencer cattle announced in a week. Earlier, Calgary Stampede manager Charles Yule had announced cattle from Earls-croft led the show there, winning $620 in prizes.

ESTEVAN, Sask.—Plans are being made to revise the pumping system at the pump-house. The project will cost about $2,000, but it is believed that the resulting saving in power will justify the installation of the new system.

WINNIPEG.—Western Canada will be unable to meet urgent requests from Ontario for 3,000 farm laborers this summer, according to director H. R. Richardson of the provincial farm help service. He said it was unlikely more than 800 westerners would be available.

Farmers Can Obtain Year-Round Labor

OTTAWA.—Attention farmers: If you want a year-round hired man you can get him now—and quick. The labor department says so.

In fact it said farm labor immigration from the displaced persons camps of Europe has hit a rate that allows the farmer to have his man for two or three weeks after he asks the National Employment Service to find him.

The influx however, is geared to the actual number of known openings. For that reason, the department asked farmers to register immediately their needs for year-round help.

It wants to know just how large the "high demand" for such men is. Then the intake can be adjusted upward accordingly.

In a number of recent cases, displaced persons would have been used twice as many Europeans as those who arrived at the local NES office.

So far 2,750 single farm workers have arrived in Canada from the DP camps. Of these, 15 went to Prince Edward Island; 12 to Nova Scotia; 12 to New Brunswick; 241 to Quebec; 1,162 to Ontario; 324 to Manitoba; 62 to Saskatchewan; 345 to Alberta; and 12 to British Columbia.

The department emphasized, however, that this situation was separate from the demand for seasonal workers.

Science May Spoil Midway Freak Shows

SASKATOON.—Take a good look at the nearest bearded lady—she may be the last of her kind.

That's the opinion, anyway, of the men in charge of the midway freak show which accompanied an exhibition here.

Their complaint is that science is cutting down the number of physical originals in the human race and it may be the supply will be exhausted completely in a few years.

For one thing, medical science corrects many of nature's mistakes at birth and endangers the existence of the show some persons consider the backbone of any midway.

Consequently, any one in the freak business is constantly on the lookout for new attractions.

WOMAN APPOINTED MANAGING EDITOR

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask.—Appointment of Mary Gardiner as managing editor of the Prince Albert, Sask., Daily Herald has been announced by Editor Burton Lewis. Her position is believed senior to that of any other newspaper woman in Canada.

Miss Gardiner joined The Herald in 1942 and in the last two years was city editor and then news editor.

Tuna Fishing Has Become Big Industry

VANCOUVER.—Marine "gold" is just waiting to be mined out beyond the bow of the Juan De Fuca Strait—and British Columbia fishermen are after it.

The gold is a scaly finail—known to the grocery store buyer as tuna fish and to the men who ply the Pacific's warm blue waters as the "chicken of the sea."

A new industry here, born of the war years, tuna fishing this year is just waiting to be mined out beyond the bow of the Juan De Fuca Strait—and British Columbia fishermen are after it.

Fish packers here were modest about the early catch already in their warehouses. "Perhaps a few tons," one said. At Victoria the first haul of 5,584 pounds was landed recently.

To the fish expert the "chicken" found off B.C.'s coast belongs to the Atlantic family, ranging in weight from 11 to 15 pounds.

R.C. line fishes, new to the game, are using long lines hook-baited with "feathers". Down South, along the United States coast, where the tuna game is not new, nets are used.

POULTRY INDUSTRY BIG BUSINESS IN CANADA

In 1947 the value of all poultry meats and eggs sold in Canadian farms or farm consumed was valued at $235,550,000. This figure includes poultry meat of all kinds and eggs produced by urban and rural dwellers not strictly classed as farmers for Census purposes, and also the eggs for hatching. The comparable figure for 1946 was $203,983,000.

Domestic consumption of eggs and poultry meats increased in 1947 over the preceding year. The per capita consumption of eggs in 1947 was 24.04 dozen compared with 23.27 dozen in 1946. Over two pounds more chicken per person was eaten, on the average in 1947 when the figure was 21.17 pounds. Per capita consumption of turkey, goose and duck was slightly higher.

NEW DISCOVERY BY SCIENTISTS IN TEXAS

NEW YORK.—Ears are useful for more purposes than hearing, supporting eye-glasses, or as pencil racks, two Texas scientists reported.

Some day the doctor won't have to push that troublesome glass thermometer under your tongue, to take your temperature.

Because, according to the Texas, the ear can be used to determine body temperature. Their new technique may enable nurses and physicians to keep a constant watch on a patient's temperature while he sleeps.

Villagers See Ball Games On Home Made Television Set

CEDAR SPRINGS, Ont.—Cedar Spring fans have been watching big league baseball—without leaving their own village—thanks to the genius of Fred Pardo, whose home-made television equipment brings the spectacle from across Lake Erie at Cleveland.

Since he was a small boy, Fred has been a radio enthusiast. He built his first radio receiving set from scrap which included old broom wire and discarded batteries.

Fred has not yet perfected the sound track on his set, but the "silent" reception of baseball games in Cleveland has been a sensation in this part of the country.

WINNIPEG.—Winnipeg has a harbor commission... but no boat.

This was the situation reported to a city finance committee meeting which last night recommended the sum of $2,340 for purchase of a boat to replace the one sunk last year.

Said Ald. Ernest Halouquist: "There's hardly any point in having a harbor commission if we haven't got a boat."

ROAD-SENSE

Too Much Speed Is Dangerous

The speed limit on Alberta highways has been set at 55 miles an hour. At this speed you travel over 80 feet in one second. It is easy to see that a moment's inattention to the road may mean disaster. For safe driving, think, not of how fast you can drive, but of how fast you can stop.

Join the A.M.A. Without Delay

Membership in the A.M.A. brings many benefits, including free insurance, highway information, license service, travel routing, and other valuable advantages—at only $10 for 12 months. You should be a member. Your nearest A.M.A. branch will gladly furnish full information on request.

A driver with normal reflexes driving a car equipped with good brakes stops, under favorable conditions, in the following distances:

at 55 m.p.h. 170 feet
at 50 m.p.h. 155 feet
at 40 m.p.h. 115 feet
at 30 m.p.h. 75 feet
at 20 m.p.h. 45 feet

With slow reflexes, inefficient brakes, or slippery road conditions, the distances traveled are much greater. Watch your speed, watch the road, drive safely.

TURNBULL-MCLEOD

The Nova Scotia Lodge was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Saturday, July 31, when marriage vows were exchanged by Vera, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. (Pat) McLeod, of Blairmore, and Mr. Thomas Turnbull, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull, of Springhill, Nova Scotia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Haythorne, of Blairmore.

The bride came down the stairway looking lovely in a blue dressmaker suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Doris McLeod, of Calgary, and she also looked lovely in a pale blue jersey dress with peplum effect and wore a corsage of roses and carnations. Attending the groom was his brother, Roy Turnbull. The bride's mother looked charming in a pink flowered jersey dress. She wore a corsage of roses and carnations.

After the ceremony a number of friends and relatives sat down to a delicious wedding luncheon. A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Haythorne, to which the groom responded. Mrs. E. R. Kennedy and Miss Sid Valentine shared honors in serving the luncheon. The table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and the room was decorated for the occasion with white wedding bells.

The Superintendent of Insurance of the Province of Alberta wishes to announce and stress that The Home Insurance Company of New York, maintaining a branch office in the Canada Life Building in the City of Calgary, Province of Alberta, is in no way connected with, affected by, or concerned with the liquidation of Home Assurance Company of Canada.

The Home Insurance Company of New York is duly licensed to carry on the business of insurance within the Province of Alberta, the said Company is in good standing and their annual reports indicate a sound and strong financial position.

Due to numerous inquiries received by this department, it is apparent that some confusion exists in the minds of the public and policy-holders, caused no doubt by the similarity in names, and any policy-holder of The Home Insurance Company of New York who may have received a notice from any Board or Corporation from which that policyholder concluded that The Home Insurance Company of New York is in liquidation, is hereby requested to entirely disregard such notice.

Appropriate measures are being taken to correct the confusion which apparently has arisen in the minds of the public and the policy-holders. In the meantime the Superintendent of Insurance feels impelled to make this announcement so that it may be definitely understood by the public and the policy-holders of The Home Insurance Company of New York that policies in The Home Insurance Company of New York are in no way affected by the events relative to Home Assurance Company of Canada.
